

Report on the Mission work in in Cuba.

May 2018

We raised enough money to help put a new roof on the storm damaged house of Katuska Hernandez and her son Orlando.

Front of House

Rear of house showing part of the tin roof missing blowing away during hurricane

Dinning and sitting area

Kitchen

Garden at the rear of house with outside shower and toilet. Building blocks for the house work

Building materials being purchased for the work of putting on a new roof material are difficult to find at a good price.

Braking the ground in preparation for the new concrete roof supports

Roof now in place and the end of the hose enclosed still more work yet to be done but materials very expensive and difficult to find.
